

Hello David,

Knew you had been interested in family matters some time ago. Thought I would send off this pic of our sixtieth anniversary get-together. Had a good time there- everybody plays tennis so we had a daily competition lasting our week there at Marco Island. I remember your dad was a good tennis player—Jo and I still play in our eighties. We sent this information around to old friends and other family members and thought you might be interested in the bios.

Regards to you,

Dave Martino

Our Sixtieth Anniversary Gathering at Marco Island, FL

Sierra Cartano: double major (math/ finance) at Francis Marion College, S. Carolina-- Senior, soccer co-captain, graduating 5/20-- is currently interviewing with the FDIC and the CIA.

Corey Cartano: senior at SUNY Mariner school, soccer team, tennis instructor, graduating 5/20 – looking for a position with the International Trade Transportation organizations.

Elizabeth (Liz) Cartano: Raleigh, N. C, is head of the nutrition program for the Chapel Hill school system, -- pioneer in developing farm-to market strategies to enhance the system's school lunch programs.

Geoff Cartano: Raleigh, NC, US Geological Survey, Raleigh, N. C,
(Liz and Geoff also own and operate a number of rental properties in the Raleigh area, – are currently refinishing a new home after leaving their lake home in Raleigh. Looking forward to retirement in two years – (C'mon, we're too young to have our kids retiring.)

Jo and Dave Cartano: Vero Beach, FL, the two oldsters and the reasons for the gathering.

Ann (Cartano) Weiner: Appleton, WI.--plays league tennis in both WI and FL—works in her little stained glass studio and currently has a cellar of some several hundred bottles of wine that she often brews with imported CA pressings or those from her fruit trees in Fl.

Bill Weiner, Appleton: WI, developed and operates his own investment firm, also founder of the Wisconsin Blizzard, an organization of over fifty Wisconsin AAU basketball associations that teach and coach the game to youngsters (El-Hi) throughout the state.

Ann and Bill own the house next door to us and are able to spend a number of months in FL for tropical tennis and golf.

Tristan Weiner: Manhattan, N.York, Senior brand strategist for Pure Growth, a branding and advertising firm in Manhattan, N.York – has fallen in in love with the city.

Brittany Weiner: Tampa, Florida, Supervision adviser for Raymond James Financial, Inc. – we're so glad to have Britt as a fellow FL resident.

Caina Weiner: Appleton, WI, MS in hospital management – collects and analyses performance data from Fox Valley hospitals and clinics – findings are reviewed with physicians and executive leadership at these health sites.
